WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 9, 1889.

Our Instructors. On page 1695 of the Congressional Record for the Fiftieth Congress it appears that Mr. Rumows, of Michigan, who has come to Virginia to instruct us in our duties, presented in the last Congress a protest against the removal of the tax upon to-bacco. This fact does not prove that Mr. Branows is opposed to the abolition of that tax, but will justify his Virginia listeners in asking him to state in his next speech whether he is or is not in favor of causing the tobacco-planters to continue to suffer under a tax upon this product of their land and laber. No other product of the farm or plantation is thus taxed.

By the way, it would soon put an end to the efforts in this State of Mr. Burnows On page 1695 of the Congressional Record ker northern missionaries if they losely questioned on the stump, in ginia fashion, as to their views on gro problem, whether they favor a delection-law or not, whether they or against the Riddle English and a minute and full report was made. See House-Journal Extra Session 1884, pp. 82-5. That report showed that General Mahone and his friends had been tarned loose in the banks and had ruined it by their "oterdrafts." Among those found there were Inge and Mahone, for $1.072.14, and Inge and Mahone insolvent for $8,850. This, Irepeat General Mahone could not help knowing and of course had not forgotten it when he issued the dedger. In the same way be knew that the extra

But as not more than latter to raise its head again. If we shall guard the weak points as respects the Legisdivided amongst the negroes, or, as all Manoxz styled them in 1881, the bulwark of true Democracy. There can be bulwark of true Democracy. We repeat, it would hardly be no question that our southern sisters will BURROWS, or REED, or CLARRSON, or any other one or more of Manone's northern the Virginia Democrats will achieve in missionaries as to the amount of money which is to be used next month for the purpose of electing Manone Governor of These northern gentlemen who have come hither, or are to come hither, to instruct us, might also be interrogated as to States, Is this seating to be done before that body is organized? If objection be raised in Congress to the admission of the and negroes will be colonized in Virginia members from North Dakota, on the to-do the voting. Wake up! ground that the enabling act has not been strictly complied with by that Territory, will these instructors vote or speak to alin organizing the House? Wouldn't it be had or had not been admitted into Congress in contempt of the constitutional requirement that States shall be admitted by the Congress (not by a presidential by the Congress a queer condition of things to have Sena- and threaten France?

Virginia, but the colored voters might ask

Does anybody doubt that these tricks will be resorted to? Is any Democrat willing that through his supineness the State of Virginia shall be plundered and disgraced? If we could only realize the dangers which stand just shead of us, threatening all the interests of the Commonwealth, we would be as much surprised as we would to seed men sleeping over a volcano about to send forth a stream of molten lava. In 1883 the first of our grand victories under Mr. Barnova was gained, but at that time men, women, and even children, were active in their efforts to redeem the State from/Mahoneism. Now we have the State government in our possession, and we may flatter ourselves that so much work and so hard is not demanded at our hands as in 1883. This would be a terrible blunder—one from which we should perhaps never recover. It would be to play the part of Parley the Porter. Let us not suppose that speakers and papers can do the work which it will require the combined efforts of all the true men in Virginia to do. This work is to be done within four weeks. Recollect that McKinner was nominated nearly two mouths ago, and you will realize that the cleetion is indeed at the very door. Go to work!
